Interview with Blaire Minter:

If you could choose anyone, who would make up your dream foursome?

Tour professional, Adam Scott, Bill Novinger (grandfather) and actor Charlie Hunnam.

Are you working with any golf coaches/instructors right now?

"My grandfather has been teaching me since I was really little. He was a 30-plus year golf professional. Recently I have been taking lessons with Cody Barden, a golf professional at White Columns Country Club (Alpharetta)."

How much do you practice? What parts of your game do you work on the most?

"I find myself doing a lot of chipping and putting. High school golf is a little different since we have a couple of tournaments a week at most, and we are responsible for practicing. I find high school golf is a nice warm up for summer tournaments."

What would you like to achieve by playing amateur and high school golf?

"I would like to earn a scholarship to play in college. I don't know right now if I would like to play beyond that since I am interested in hotel management. Our family travels a lot and I think that would be something I would enjoy studying in college."

How has Atlanta Junior Golf helped your game?

"Since I started so young, Merilee, and now Roh, have really stressed the rules and etiquette part of the game. I think golf is so different than other sports. It has taught me so much and has provided so many playing opportunities. I think it's also taught me to go with the flow and focus on each hole when I am on the course. It has really helped my game."
